TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY

TIME: Christian lives are not lived in isolation, but through relationships. It is also through relationships that our sense of vocation manifests itself. By looking at your relationships, what can you sense about your vocation? If God is calling you to a Church vocation, call Fr. Andrew Lauricella at 716-847-5535. You can also check out the “Priest of the Month” stories on our website – www.buffalovocations.org.

FAITH MOMENT REFLECTION: In today's gospel, Jesus expresses what we might call "tough love" today. He tells us that if someone sins against us, we should first discuss it with that person privately. In other words, avoid bad-mouthing and gossip. If we can't reach an agreement – if the person doesn't want to listen – we should then bring in one or two others from the family or community to assist us in resolving the problem. If that doesn't work, we can involve others as needed to help the situation. If the wrong-doer still won't listen, as a final resort, we distance ourselves from them. What Jesus suggests is not to punish but to bring someone to his or her senses. It is an act of love to do whatever one can to help another person return to a right relationship with God and others. We don't give up. We give the person time to reconcile and change.

YOU DID IT FOR ME: Catholic Charities was asked to assist with the relocation of a family of 10 whose mobile home was destroyed by a tornado. The family included a married couple, their children and several nieces and nephews who had lost their parents. One of the immediate needs was a nebulizer and medical supplies for one of the children. The agency received donations for the supplies, but housing a family of 10 was not as easy. Nevertheless the agency was able to help the family relocate to a permanent home, supplied beds for the children and provided health referrals. The family is now stable and thriving. Catholic Charities agencies helped 462 children in 2016 to recover from the effects of a tornado.

Grandparents humor...

After putting her grandchildren to bed, a grandmother changed into old slacks and a droopy blouse and proceeded to wash her hair. As she heard the children getting more and more rambunctious, her patience grew thin. Finally, she threw a towel around her head and stormed into their room, putting them back to bed with stern warnings. As she left the room, she heard the three-year-old say with a trembling voice, "Who was THAT?"

A young man saw an elderly couple sitting down to lunch at McDonald's. He noticed that they had ordered one meal, and an extra drink cup. As he watched, the gentleman carefully divided the hamburger in half, then counted out the fries, one for him, one for her, until each had half of them. Then he poured half of the soft drink into the extra cup and set that in front of his wife. The old man then began to eat, and his wife sat watching, with her hands folded in her lap. The young man decided to ask if they would allow him to purchase another meal for them so that they didn't have to split theirs. The old gentleman said, "Oh no. We've been married 50 years, and everything has always been and will always be shared, 50/50." The young man then asked the wife if she was going to eat, and she replied, "It's his turn with the teeth."
